COUNTRY KID.

West Side

We come this time with our old friend, "Jack Frost." Well "Jack" did some pretty good work along the valleys, and now he will no doubt take a trip south for a few days sport.

Quite a number from here attended the Lancaster Fair last week. They say it was the "same old story and same old way".

Mr. Wm. Cane, one of Hocking's old pioneers, was spending last week in this neighborhood visiting friends. He will return to his home in Straitsville in the near future.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Symers last week, a big boy.

Several from this place are contemplating going to the Street Fair and Pumpkin Show at Circleville next week.

Mr. John Everett lost a valuable horse one day recently. Deceased was a voter for President Washington.

Mr. Lewis Keister attended preaching at Bethel, last Sunday evening.

Rev. Blosser preached his farewell sermon at the Grove, last Tuesday night.

Mr. Frank Wilson, one of our champion corn cutters, will leave on the morning train, Monday, for Fairfield county, where he will join his brothers in a 55 acre job.

Mrs. Allen Cox, of the Rock House, is quite poorly at this writing.

Mr. Chas. Lindsey had business at the Capitol City last week.

Mr. Albert Kelch was a caller in the valley Saturday morning.

Hearing so much about "The Old Man's Cave," Messrs. Lewis Keister and Frank Wilson, with their lady friends, Miss Lucy Quillen and Miss Hazel Febes, decided to visit the said place. So early, last Sunday, found them wending their way up Pine Valley with rigs overflowing with edibles, consisting of chicken, pie, cake, sandwiches of all sorts, and watermelons on ice, with pickles spiced in prune juice, for the "old man." Reaching the Cave late in the day they concluded to lunch before calling on their host.

But not so with the old man, for just as they were sitting down for lunch along came the "Old Man" as you have all heard about. His dog, he said, was always scenting up the staff of life. We of course invited our friend to lunch with us but he was inclined to chat rather than eat. He began by telling us all of the important places about the cave, and told us where to find the lost shoe. We were all very much interested in the queer old man but not even one dared to breath hard for fear we would annoy him, and at last he told us he was expected at 2:00 o'clock to entertain a bunch of young folks. We began to think then as we never heard of the "Old Man" leaving the cave, so we ventured to ask who he was, if he wasn't the man who took care of the cave. In a cloud of dust down the road he murmured out something like Jim Iles. Well, we beg pardon, Mr. Iles, for if it was you, you told us more than any one else that day.

With our camera we got for a souvenir a fine picture of the Cave, which we prize very highly.

In conclusion will say that we all enjoyed ourselves very much that day and next summer will find us at the same place "if all is well that ends well."

UNCLE MACK.

Rockbridge

Elder W. S. McBroom died very suddenly last Sunday at Quaker City, Noble county, from a stroke of paralysis. He was brought home Tuesday, where the funeral services were held at the A. C. Church, Rev. Maudvill officiating, assisted by Rev. Kline.

Elder McBroom was 61 years and 5 months old. He became a member of the church here when the church was organized by Elder Babcock. He had been the president of several conferences. He was a great worker in the church, having baptized over 500 persons, his death occurred while on the way to the water for baptismal services. Rev. Maudvill used the text found in David Psalms 17 chapter, 15 verse. A large audience listened to the services. Burial was deferred until Wednesday morning.

Gamblers.

Lancaster, Oct. 12.—The gambling fraternity, which has overrun this city this week during the county fair, got wind of a raid to be made by the sheriff and chief of police and left the city in all directions. They hastily threw the money in valises, shoved their paraphernalia out of the back doors and made their escape on the first cars out on the interurban. Late at night four local parties were arrested. A crowd threatened to take the sheriff's prisoners from him. He drew a gun and dispersed the mob. The railroad officials ordered the arrest of four pickpockets who were working the crowds around the Union depot.

Directions to Prepare Simple Home Mixture.

A well-known authority on Rheumatism gives the readers of a large New York daily paper the following valuable, yet simple and harmless prescription, which any one can easily prepare at home:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Mix by shaking well in a bottle, and take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bed time.

He states that the ingredients can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost, and, being of vegetable extraction, are harmless to take.

This pleasant mixture, if taken regularly for a few days, is said to overcome almost any case of Rheumatism. The pain and swelling, if any, diminishes with each dose, until permanent results are obtained, and without injuring the stomach. While there are many so-called Rheumatism remedies, patent medicines, etc., some of which do give relief, few really give permanent results, and the above will, no doubt, be greatly appreciated by many sufferers here at this time.

Inquiry at the drug stores of this neighborhood elicits the information that these drugs are harmless and can be bought separately, or the druggists here will mix the prescription for our readers if asked to.

Henry E. Jones of Tampa, Fla., writes: "I can thank God for my present health, due to Foley's Kidney Cure. I tried doctors and all kinds of kidney cures, but nothing done me much good till I took Foley's Kidney Cure. Four bottles cured me, and I have no more pain in my back and shoulders. I am 62 years old, and suffered long, but thanks to Foley's Kidney Cure I am well and can walk and enjoy myself. It is a pleasure to recommend it to those needing a kidney medicine."

ATTRACTIVE TRIFLES.

Children's Shoes on Sensible Lines. Mourning Frocks.

Children's shoes for school use are made on more practical lines this season than they were last. They have broad, flat toes and low heels and more nearly conform to the shape of the foot than any of the styles that boys and girls have heretofore worn. There are some wonderfully smart macgpie costumes this fall. One fashionable matron wears a gown of black and white striped silk. The skirt is plaited so that the black stripes do not show, but there is a foot flare
